RESIDENT’S SEMINAR

Monday, March 14, 2016
Faculty Club Leuven, Huis van Chièvres, Auditorium Willem Van Croy

18u30: Welcome and registration

19u00: Start Scientific Program - Moderator: Prof. Dr. P. De Leyn

1. Surgical problems and proposed solutions in intestinal transplantation (ITx).
   E. Canovai, Dept of Abdominal Transplant Surgery, UZ Leuven

2. AZ Delta Roeselare-Menen’s perspective on pathological tumor response after rectal surgery in patients with clinical complete response following neoadjuvant chemoradiotherapy.
   K. Van Praet, Dept of General and Abdominal Surgery, AZ Delta Menen-Roeselare

3. Comparison of perioperative outcome between Bricker conduit and orthotopic neobladder reconstruction in TCC patients: a single center retrospective study.
   L. Demaegd, Dept of Urology, University Hospitals Leuven

   M. Capelle, Dept of Abdominal Transplant Surgery, University Hospitals Leuven

5. Possible negative impact on mortality of pre-injury anti platelet and anticoagulant therapy in polytrauma patients.
   L. Clement, Dept of Traumatology, University Hospitals Leuven

6. The use of a shunt during carotid endarterectomy (CEA).
   E. Wybaillie, Dept of Vascular Surgery, AZ Groeninge, Kortrijk

7. Congenital diaphragmatic hernia repair by thoracotomy results in less recurrence with comparable mortality and morbidity.
   S. Vanstraelen, Dept of Thoracic Surgery, University Hospitals Leuven

8. Left ventricular failure after surgery to correct right ventricular pressure overload in pulmonary hypertension patients.
   T. Verbelen, Dept of Cardiac Surgery, University Hospitals Leuven

20u45: Keynote lecture by Prof. Dr. Anna Martling, Dept. of Molecular Medicine & Surgery, Karolinska University, Sweden
Surgical audit: changing surgical training and practice and impact on quality of care.
A brief history of rectal cancer treatment.

21u15: Grant prof. Em. J.A. Gruwez

21u30- 22u30: Reception, kindly offered by Johnson & Johnson Medical

Registration is free of charge but mandatory.
Please register by e-mail to diane.pardon@uzleuven.be before March 5, 2016

Accreditation: credit points have been requested.